

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

It is my great pleasure to invite you to the 9th edition of the biannual “Football & Finance” Conference this time again (and in person!) at Paderborn University and in the stadium of SC Paderborn on the 21st and 22nd of April 2023.

While the conference is dedicated to topics related to the economics of football, I am equally interested in topics related to other professional team sports leagues. Both, theoretical and empirical contributions are equally welcome. If you have a paper fitting the conference theme, I would need your definite response (including author / presenter details and the title of the paper) by the 28th of February 2023. The participation fee will be 50 € (including two coffee breaks).
